

FUTURE LEADERS CLASS OF 2022

MARTHA HATCH

GRADUATE TRAINEE
UBS

Martha is a compliance specialist on regulatory development for UBS. Before the specialist role, Martha was an HKMA banking talent in the Governmental and Regulatory Affairs team for UBS. She has performed policy and regulatory analysis on APAC Sustainable Finance and Digital Assets. As a rookie, Martha is actively seeking to enhance her knowledge and skillsets in the financial industry.

Prior to banking, Martha was engaged in research and advocacy work in the area of internet governance. Her focus area was on social construction influenced by new media technology and algorithmic bias. Aside from research, as part of Netmission's educational effort, Martha has facilitated and organized youth internet governance forums. Martha has also organized workshops at the United Nations with 130+ attendees where she co-moderated on topics of internet governance policies and sustainable development of fintech.

Outside the area of policy and regulation, Martha is an art practitioner, writer and co-runs a non-profit Artspace (Floating Project) in Hong Kong. She seeks to incorporate theories of political and social science into expressions of art while fostering a research-based culture in art-making through the Floating Project.

Martha is the valedictorian of the class of 2021 of Leuphana University of Lüneburg and City University of Hong Kong, where she obtained her BA in Digital Media (Research in New Media Technology) and BA in Creative Media.
