Dennis Bishop

Maxwell GeoSystems Ltd.

Senior Consultant & Board Advisor

Dennis is an Executive Mentor and founding member of the Executive Board. He helps guide MGS sales and marketing activities, as well as future partnership and investment options. He brings a large company perspective to the planning of current operations and positioning MGS for aggressive global impact.

Dennis has lived and worked in Asia for almost 40 years. His career has focused on the energy and infrastructure industries, including senior executive roles with technology based firms such as GE, and the largest local engineering firm in Saudi Arabia. This experience includes energy and environmental, oil and gas, and mining and tunnelling, all in support of diverse global infrastructure projects. Most recently he has led venture capital investment and early stage startup activities in Saudi Arabia, the USA and Asia.

Additionally, he has managed engineering and geotechnical consulting firms in both Asia and the Middle East, always focused on translating state-of-the-art skills and technology into things that benefit mankind.
