

AmCham Women of Influence Awards 2020

Distinguished Judge

Fangfang Chen

Algorand Foundation

Chief Operating Officer

Fangfang Chen is the chief operating officer for Algorand Foundation, an organization dedicated to building trusted, public and permissionless blockchain infrastructure for the borderless economy. In this capacity, she is responsible for developing and executing global business strategy and priorities of the Foundation.

Previously, Fangfang was the chief operating officer for State Street Bank in Asia Pacific (APAC). In this capacity, she oversees day-to-day operations across multiple business units and directs operational innovation, improving the client experience and supporting organizational growth. Fangfang is a member of the Asia Pacific Executive Committee, State Street's most senior strategy and policy-making team in the region.

Fangfang has extensive financial services industry experience, having held strategy and management roles at Fidelity Investments and American International Group. Fangfang received a Master of Business Administration from Yale University and a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of International Business & Economics in Beijing.