Haley Meng

Cobalt.io

Business Development Team Manager

Haley Meng is the Business Development Team Manager at Cobalt.io, a cybersecurity company based in San Francisco and Berlin, which helps clients to deliver secure apps through on-demand security testing, a powerful tech-driven platform, and access to a global pool of highly skilled cybersecurity talent.

She is also the Co-Founder and Director of WE Club, (West meets East Club), a social and events platform holding weekly events that help people connect across cultures and learn through new experiences. Since founding in January 2015, WE Club has grown to a team of 20, organised 300+ events, and expanded membership to 10,000 people.

Prior to Cobalt.io, she was based in Hong Kong for seven years, most recently overseeing business transformation programs for PwC across China Hong Kong as a Business Development Manager. Prior to PwC, she was an Account Director at Hamilton Advisors, a PR firm where she managed strategic communications for a diverse portfolio of clients.

Haley is also a sought-after MC, MCing for TEDxWanChai 2018, Hong Kong Fintech Week 2018, and Northeastern University's Global Leadership Summit 2018-19 where she moderated fireside chats with speakers such as Zhen Liu, SVP of Bytedance, and Arnaud de Puyfontaine, CEO of Vivendi.

She was named "Young Achiever of the Year" 2017 by AmCham Hong Kong; "30 Under 30" 2016 by The Loop Hong Kong; is a former protégé of The Women's Foundation Mentoring Programme; a Young Global Leader for Northeastern University, her alma mater; and an award-winning swing dancer and teacher.
